v.) 1546(a), United States Code

OLIVER DRAGIC,) JUDGE POLSTER
Defendant.)

General Allegations

At all times relevant to this Indictment, unless otherwise specified:

1. From in or about 1992 to 1995, the Republika Srpska (RS), a state unrecognized by the international community, attempted to create an ethnically pure Serbian nation within the ethnically-mixed territory of the Yugoslav Republic of Bosnia-Herzegovina.
2. RS engaged in violent conflict against the internationally recognized Bosnian government as well as citizens of Bosnian Muslim and Bosnian Croatian ethnicity to reach this goal. RS military and security forces engaged in documented ethnic cleansing, war crimes, and other human rights violations, including the July 1995 Srebrenica genocide.
3. During this violent conflict, RS took control of a significant amount of Bosnian territory. While RS controlled this territory, it installed provisional governments and security forces to help maintain its rule over the region. The police forces in RS were under the control of its Ministry of Internal Affairs and included the Special Police Units known as the PJP, militarized police formations that joined RS's Army during military operations.

4. In or about 1994, after completing police training in Serbia, Defendant OLIVER DRAGIC returned to Bosnia and became a member of the PJP 3rd Company stationed at Zvornik, a city in the eastern part of Bosnia. Service in the PJP was voluntary.

5. In or about July 1995, RS forces committed the Srebrenica massacre, an act of genocide. RS forces massacred an estimated 8,300 people at Srebrenica and forcibly expelled over 30,000 women, children, and elderly.

6. During that time, RS deployed DRAGIC along with his PJP unit to the wilderness area around Srebrenica for combat duty. While there, the PJP performed sweeping operations to find survivors of the Srebrenica massacre and prevent their escape. After DRAGIC's actions at Srebrenica, RS supervisors recommended that he attend an officer training academy. He later attended that academy.

7. In or about May 1998, DRAGIC applied for refugee status to the United States, claiming that he was a victim of the Bosnian War. DRAGIC continued to serve in the RS police during this time, only ending his service as an officer in November 1998.

8. In his refugee application, DRAGIC made numerous material false statements and omissions. On Form G-325C (Supplemental Questionnaire for Refugee Applicants), DRAGIC falsely stated, "UNEMPLOYED, NEVER WORKED" for his employment, rather than admitting his service in the RS Police and the PJP. On Form I-590 (Registration for Classification as Refugee), DRAGIC falsely stated that he fled Bosnia as a refugee on May 19, 1992 and remained outside that country, when he in fact returned to and resided in Bosnia after completing police school in 1994 and voluntarily joining the RS Police. On Form G-646 (Sworn Statement of Refugee Applying for Admission into the United States), DRAGIC likewise fraudulently affirmed that he was not attempting to procure a visa by fraud or misrepresentation. These fraudulent statements concealed material facts that directly affected the adjudication of DRAGIC's refugee application. Further, the omissions and fraudulent information prevented an inquiry into whether DRAGIC was ineligible for refugee status. DRAGIC'S entrance into the United States through fraud was a necessary prerequisite to him fraudulently obtaining his permanent resident status.

9. Upon being granted refugee status based on fraud and entering the United States, DRAGIC applied for and received his permanent residence status in 2001 by fraudulently misrepresenting material facts. In his Form I-485 permanent resident application, DRAGIC fraudulently denied involvement in crimes of moral turpitude. He also fraudulently denied involvement in genocide or otherwise ordering, inciting, assisting or otherwise participating in the killing of any person because of race, religion, nationality, ethnic origin, or political opinion. He additionally misrepresented the actual dates he voluntarily departed from Bosnia. DRAGIC likewise fraudulently affirmed that he had not procured or sought to procure a visa, other documentation, and entry to the United States, or any other immigration benefit by fraud or willful misrepresentation of a material fact.

10. From on or about December 7, 2013 to September 9, 2014, DRAGIC attempted to acquire naturalization as a U.S. citizen by fraudulently misrepresenting material facts. In his Form N-400 naturalization application, DRAGIC falsely omitted his membership and association in the RS Police and the PJP; denied persecuting (either directly or indirectly) any person because of race, national origin, membership in a particular social group, or political opinion; denied committing a crime or offense for which he was not arrested; denied giving false or misleading information to any U.S. Government official while applying for any immigration benefit or to prevent deportation, exclusion, or removal; denied lying to any U.S. Government official to gain entry or admission into the United States; and claimed he was lawfully admitted into the United States, when he had actually acquired his refugee status and subsequent permanent residence through fraud.
